

DIOCESE OF DENVER.

CITY OF DENVER.

Bishop Matz on "Socialistic Hatred."

(Special Correspondence.)

Sunday of this week ushered in the holy season of Advent, and the day was observed in all the Catholic churches of the city with unusual solemnity. Serious attention of the people of the day were preached by the city pastors, and at the Logan avenue chapel Bishop Matz gave a lengthy address on topics suggested by the text.

Quiet in the extreme had been the past week in religious circles. Throughout the diocese there has been little of importance going on and the subject of the day was the preparation for the day of gift-giving and receiving, and special attention was given to the religious exercises of an impressive character.

The Christmas music will be a feature of the day in all the churches, and the choirs of the city are busily engaged in preparing for an elaborate musical program. It is a little early as yet to announce definitely the hours of the Masses, but they will doubtless be the same as in previous years. Sermons appropriate to the season are being prepared by the city pastors. Bishop N. C. Matz will deliver his usual Christmas address at the Logan avenue chapel, and the other churches the pastors will preach.

The change in the hours of the Sunday Masses at Logan avenue chapel has proved quite satisfactory to the congregation, as was attested by the large attendance at the services last Sunday. Bishop Matz, assuming the pastorate of the church, eliminated one of the early Masses, reducing the number to four. Every seat was taken at each Mass. The attendance at the evening devotion is nothing short of marvellous. A score of people present at the Sunday Masses, while standing room is eagerly sought. Bishop Matz has begun a series of lectures on "Socialism," and this fact is doubtless responsible for the increase in the attendance and interest. The lecture of the evening was given on last Sunday evening before a church filled to capacity. In the course of his remarks Bishop Matz said:

Socialistic hatred is not only hatred of man, but hatred of society; and if this hatred has been seen, the ruin of man, how much more will it be the ruin of society. It is the dissolution of society, wholly incompatible with social life and social progress. But society with this socialistic hatred cannot make a people great, happy and progressive. Multiply as much as you please all the miracles of genius and art, science and eloquence, wealth and diplomacy; with hatred centering the heart, hatred between great and small, rich and poor, you can never save that people, but the reason is because hatred in the heart constitutes the cancer of society, when once that disease has reached the heart, life is in danger and death approaches. Hatred in the individual as well as in society paralyzes all, degrades all, and when it has devalued all, it devours itself, thus proving by the ruins it made and the chaos it created the truth of what we said. In the evening an elaborate banquet was indulged in at the Imperial hotel, plates being set for 150. Musical and dramatic performances were given by the students of the school of St. Ann's hospital, and responses were made by many of the local knights as well as by several of the visitors. The banquet lasted until a late hour.

His physical has not been conducive to his physical betterment. Since leaving Gethsemane he has visited the pope's delegate at Washington to again state his case, but he has not announced that he will give Bishop Matz further trouble.

Rev. John B. White, who has been seriously ill at the Mercy sanitarium, is almost completely recovered. He will soon be able to return to the parochial residence and take up his work there again.

The fair which was held last week for the benefit of St. Clara's orphanage was a splendid success. The contests proved quite remunerative, and in other ways the affair was an artistic success. The Sisters have sent out the following card of thanks to their friends:

The Sisters of St. Clara's orphanage wish to extend their most sincere thanks to the noble, generous and zealous president of their fair, Mrs. M. C. Sullivan, and to every member of the committee for laboring with such untiring zeal for the benefit of the orphanage. They also return many thanks to Mr. George Eustal, secretary and treasurer of the fair, for the interest and fidelity which he manifested; as also to all the kind friends who contributed so liberally towards making their fair "a grand success." The Sisters are greatly indebted to their kind benefactors and wish them every blessing in return.

Mr. John J. Hagus, the pioneer business man of Colorado, who was operated on by Dr. W. R. Craig at St. Joseph's hospital last Thursday, is much improved and is slowly recovering. His condition is still serious, but his friends are praying for his return to health. At his bedside are the wife and children, Mrs. George Brandenburgh, Mr. Joseph C. Hagus, Mr. Louis F. Hagus, Mrs. Hagus, and Miss Emma Hagus. Mr. Louis Hagus was summoned from Baltimore, where he is taking his senior year at the theological seminary. He will be ordained in June.

The funeral of Mrs. Thomas August Hayes took place from the Logan Avenue chapel on Tuesday morning and was attended by hundreds of devoted friends. The unusually sad circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Hayes attracted the sympathy of scores of acquaintances, and the funeral was one of the most impressive ever held from the cathedral parish. Mrs. Hayes died of pneumonia, contracted within the past few weeks. She leaves three children, Thomas August Hayes, Jr., aged 2 years; Julia Bonclon Hayes, aged 18 months, and a baby boy of 5 weeks. May her soul rest in peace.

PUEBLO, COLO.

Thirty-five candidates were initiated by Pueblo council 501, Knights of Columbus, Sunday, and three degrees were conferred. The first two by the degree team of the local council and the third by District Deputy Dan B. Carey and his staff. The ceremonies attendant upon the initiation began at 7 o'clock and were not finished until 7:30 in the evening. Many out of town Knights were present to assist in the ceremonies.

In the evening an elaborate banquet was indulged in at the Imperial hotel, plates being set for 150. Musical and dramatic performances were given by the students of the school of St. Ann's hospital, and responses were made by many of the local knights as well as by several of the visitors. The banquet lasted until a late hour.

BUTTE.

James T. Finlen has gone to Salt Lake City.

Rev. Father Desiere and Rev. Father Callahan have gone to Spokane to be guests of Rt. Rev. Alexander Christie.

Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Hogan are entertaining a little girl daughter at their home, 318 West Galena street.

Miss R. Chadwick of Missoula is a guest at the Butte.

Rev. Father McCork of Denver, Colo., is in the city as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald. Father McCork is well known here, and many friends will be pleased to have the opportunity of meeting him again. It is planned to have him remain in Butte several days.

Michael Egan was quietly married to Mrs. Kate O'Rourke recently at the Sacred Heart church. Only the relatives and a few close friends present at the ceremony. Mr. Egan is coroner for Silver Bow county and, notwithstanding his public office, is of such a modest nature that he desired his marriage to be as quiet an affair as possible. He has had a peculiarly happy look about him for some time, and on the day approached when he was to join the benedictines was even abstracted when attending to his official duties. Both the bride and the groom have a home of their own. Mr. Egan in the last election ran so far ahead of his fellow candidates on the party ticket that he was conceded as elected long before the polls were opened. He has been in Butte many years, and counts among his staunch friends citizens of the community from the millionaire to the workman. He was himself a miner and knows the business so well that he has been particularly fitted for the office of coroner, on whom devolves so many inquiries into the cause of accidents in the mines.

After the ceremony last evening an unostentatious dinner was had and the happy couple left on the Great Northern train for the Benedictine monastery where they will stay a week. During his absence Mr. Egan has delegated Justice of the Peace Tim Harrington to take charge of the coroner's office.

Archbishop Alexander Christie of Portland, Ore., the highest dignity of the Roman Catholic church in the Northwest, arrived in Butte, Idaho, today in consultation with four Montana priests over the selection of a successor to the late Bishop Brondel of the diocese of Montana. The Monsignor arrived here at 10 o'clock, and was met by Father Desiere and Father Pinar of Anaconda, who constituted the advisory board to the late bishop. The conference was held in a private room at Gonzaga college and lasted until Archbishop Christie was forced to leave to catch the afternoon Oregon Railroad train for Portland. While no official statement was given out it is understood that the four priests and the archbishop agreed upon three names, which will be forwarded to Rome. In the near future the bishops of Nequally (Washington, Idaho and Oregon) will meet to select three other names, and from the six names chosen the pope will name Bishop Brondel's successor. No ceremony accompanied the selection of the names. Father Verhaeghen of the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes tried to induce Archbishop Christie to remain over for the opening of the Catholic fair last night, but the archbishop's engagements were such that he had to return to Portland immediately.

Dan D. Sullivan, a member of the Butte police force, last week received news of the death of his son, John Sullivan, 12 years of age, near Coalville, Utah, the telegram giving the information that the lad had been run over by a train.

The death of young Sullivan was the culmination of a desire on his part to join the home ties and make his own way in the world. When the Butte schools closed last June John asked permission of his father to go and seek employment on a ranch. The parents thought the boy was too young for such an undertaking and urged that he enter a business college during the summer months, but the boy's craving for a larger life than his home town afforded him was too strong to be resisted and he left home.

It is supposed that young Sullivan succeeded in beating his way to Salt Lake City and was in the city when the accident occurred that ended his life. Officer Sullivan left on a Short Line train for Salt Lake and will bring the remains of his son home for burial.

ANACONDA, MONT.

Miss Teresa O'Donnell of Butte has been the guest of friends here for the past few days.

Miss M. S. Maloney has returned to Anaconda from Lewiston.

Mrs. C. A. O'Brien spent several days in Anaconda this past week visiting friends and relatives.

Misses Marie and Alice McGinn are visiting relatives in Boulder valley.

Patrick McGuire and Owen Jones were treated at the hospital for cuts on the head. McGuire was accidentally struck on the head by a crowbar and Jones fell against some iron pipes. Both accidents happened at the smelter.

Constantine Pat Gallagher went to Donicville the other day.

Miss Frances Hendricks entertained her friends on Thursday evening on the occasion of her fifteenth birthday. Those present were: Grace McGregor, May Grover, Jessie Showers, Gladys McLean, Jean McGovern, Katie Peifers, Minnie Thomas, Alice Napton, Margaret Peters, Bessie Harper, Maudie Conley, Katie Napton, Fern Harper, Minnie Conley, Jessie McGinn, Gertrude Martin, Ralph Spurr, Gertrude McGinness, Hazel Harrison, Eleanor Kennedy. The evening was spent in music and games.

Pat Bern, who received attention for a sore finger at St. Ann's hospital, is feeling much better.

Fathers De Siere and Callahan of Butte and Father Pinar of Anaconda, who with Father Day of Helena constitute the board of consultants of the diocese of Helena, the province and Spokane, where they met with Archbishop Alexander Christie and decided upon three names to be submitted to the bishops of the province and sent by them to the pope to be used in deciding upon the future bishop of the diocese.

Father De Siere said that the meeting at Spokane was held, as stated in the Associated Press dispatches, at Gonzaga college. The formality of selecting three names was soon disposed of. Archbishop Christie was called back to Portland sooner than expected, but the others remained over and were entertained by the clergy of Spokane. "I don't know when the archbishop will call the bishops together," said Father De Siere. "I expect it will be very soon, however. Of course I am not at liberty to talk about the names that were decided upon to be submitted to the bishops of the province."

Thanksgiving day was enjoyed at St. Ann's hospital by the patients there in a manner as appreciative as could be shown by anyone in the city. For at least two of the patients the occasion was an appropriate one.

William Bell, who came extremely near to being killed at the brick yard recently, is well on the road to recovery. His injuries will, of course, necessitate his remaining at the hospital for at least another week.

J. B. Vocovich, who received a severe injury to his head while at work at the Washoe smelter, is also greatly improved. While his condition is yet serious, his recovery is looked for.

Almost all of those who received treatment at St. Ann's for minor injuries during the past few days have either left the hospital or are about to do so. Among the latter who are able to be around again are Patrick McGovern, P. Peterson, Ed Condon and W. D. Melien.

One of the most successful social events of the season in Kemmerer was the grand ball given in Smith's opera house on Thanksgiving eve under the auspices of the Catholic church choir of Kemmerer. For several weeks previous preparations for the event had been under way, and those who had planned and arranged the details of the dance were well rewarded for their efforts by the success of the occasion. The hall had been decorated by those in charge, and the attendance indicated that a large proportion of those buying tickets had come to the ball. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Hotchkiss Brothers' orchestra of Diamondville, and was some of the best dance music rendered at an occasion of the kind. A well arranged programme of dances was carried out, consisting of square dances interspersed with two-steps and waltzes. Until a late hour the dancing continued, the devotees never tiring until the strains of "Home, Sweet Home" announced the end of the programme. Several of the numbers were encored. Present from outside of Kemmerer were large delegations from Frontier and Diamondville, and Miss Annie Naylin of Grand Island, Neb.

Miss Annie Naylin of Grand Island, Neb., who has been visiting her brother, P. J. and M. L. Naylin, left for home last week.

Father Walsh of Evanston was in town last week.

IDAHO FALLS, IDA.

(Special Correspondence.) During Advent a course of lectures upon the Bible will be given at the evening services.

Mr. R. Liddy of Sulphur Springs was a visitor in town last Sunday.

Upon Thanksgiving day our local school met the Pocatello school in an exciting game of football, with a score of 24 to 0 in favor of the home team. The boys now are wearing larger hats and broader smiles.

The pastor was presented with a beautiful silver inkstand last week as a birthday souvenir.

NOT OUR PUT IN.

Berlin, Dec. 2.—The Washington dispatches regarding the possibility of an American suggestion that The Hague court arbitrate the question of Manchurian evacuation is attracting attention here. Nevertheless the foreign office, it is said, scarcely expects such a solution. It believes that Russia will continue to "spare American susceptibilities at the cost of commercial concessions, if necessary," and that, in all events, the United States will hardly occupy an exposed position in the matter.
